

Anna Falanga Biosketch

Anna Falanga, MD, is full professor of Hematology at University of Milan Bicocca and Chief of the Department of Immunohematology and Transfusion Medicine and the Thrombosis and Hemostasis Center, at the Hospital Papa Giovanni XXIII, in Bergamo, Italy. She has authored more than 300 publications and is guest editor of 21 volumes. She is an expert in the field of cancer and thrombosis. For her experience in this field, she is member of the panel of experts and co-chair for the preparation of the Guidelines for prophylaxis and treatment of venous thromboembolism in patients with cancer, for the Italian Society of Medical Oncology, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, and the European Society of Medical Oncology.

Anna Falanga has an active role in several professional societies, including the International Society of Thrombosis and Haemostasis (ISTH), the European Hematology Association (EHA), the Italian Society of Thrombosis and Hemostasis (SISST), the Italian Society of Hematology (SIE).

She received the BACH Investigator Award of the ISTH (2009), and the “Harold R. Roberts Medal 2015” of the SSC of ISTH (2015).

Anna Falanga is the organizer of 10 biennial International Conferences on “Thrombosis and Hemostasis Issues in Cancer” (ICTHIC), in Bergamo, Italy, and is co-editor-in-chief with Charles Francis of the online ICTHIC magazine.

Bergamo, Italy, March 2021